Confession

To the ultimate awful spirit of nature:

The nature, who predominated by almighty you, we are brothers!

We had been punished by ignoring the natural rules constituted by you:

We have incurred the mud-rock flow because of destroying the forests, exploiting sand and rock illegally;

We have incurred sand storm because of demolishing the vegetation and grazing to excess;

We have incurred the extinction of the creature species because of want on slaughter:

We have incurred the extinction of the botanic species because of overuse;

We have infected by the plague because we discarded the garbage anywhere;

We have let the water polluted because we discharged foul water at w

We have let the air polluted because we emitted exhaust gas without restraint;

We poisoned our food because we overused the growth hormone and pesticide;

Please forgive our sins!

We have been punished by what we have done, you have warne

We therefore devoted to protect and beautify the environment we live in

We will try our best to pay back what we have owed you.

We beg you the forgiveness.

Blessing!
